CH501
CHURCH HISTORY I
FALL 1998

J. Steven O'Malley, Instructor

I. COURSE DESCRIPTION

A study of the development of the Christian Church from the Apostolic Period to the Modern Era, with emphasis upon the central historical movements and theological issues of the period, with attention given to their relevance for contemporary ministry. Emphasis will be placed upon important primary texts, as well as interpretive studies. Lectures, reading, and discussion will constitute the main substance of our learning.

II. GENERAL GOALS

Our chief concern is the twofold need of the Christian community, clergy and laity, to
1) understand our calling, and 2) to participate responsibly in the task of developing capable Christian leadership in the contemporary church.

III. PREREQUISITES

While no prior courses in the School of Theology are prerequisites for the entering student, it is important that he or she manifest an attitude of open inquiry under God's leading, recognizing that the mind of Christ can be more fully discerned by an awareness of the shaping of His body in history. A knowledge of the classical languages, while not essential, is helpful in the study of the early period.
